American Smelting & Refining Interests Captured the Plum.

According to meager advices which eached here during the day from New York, and previous reports of what was doing, it is certain that the famous Balaklala copper mines, the control of which was secured for the Western Ex-Southern Gold Camp Getting in Line ploration company '7 Willard F. Snyder about three years ago, have finally

Fay. Nev., Feb. 26.—If the fact that Fay is attracting no little attention these days and is taking on the appearances of a boom were doubted it would only be necessary to state that a saloon has just been started and other business trojects are contemplated. The saloon is the forerunner of the boom in the mining camp and Fay appreciates the possibilities.

Things are moving pretty.

The resumption of work at the Horseshoe will mean much to the camp. The mill is in good condition, and, except for a few changes to be made in the tank room, would soon be in shape for work. The mine has large bodies of ore in sight and can be depended upon for good results in the right hands.
